

The differing needs of tenants is an area in which we have widespread experience. This particular development of 38 flats in Dulwich, in two phases, incorporating the decanting of residents, has been specifically designed to meet the needs of Action for the Blind and is a prime example of a comprehensive design approach, skilfully avoiding the institutional box more commonly associated with such development in the past.

Client: Action for the Blind

Consultants: Baily Garner – Architects and Quantity Surveyors