

Over the years the Company has built many shared and outright ownership homes for Housing Associations and Local Authorities, either as complete developments or as part of a mixed tenure scheme.

The Ham at Brentford involved 21 shared ownership flats for Notting Hill Home Ownership, with the contract being taken on as one of a portfolio of projects set back by the demise of Ruddy Construction in 1998.

With our roots in private house building and early experience with shared ownership housing in joint venture with Local Authorities, we have a strong affinity for this form of housing.
